

CQI NUCLEAR SPECIAL INTEREST GROUP (NucSIG)

Welcome. You have joined (or perhaps are thinking of joining) a group which has members who work for nuclear establishments, for their supply chains, for regulators or for consultants to the sector. The group has members from both the civil and the military nuclear industry.

The Nuclear SIG provides a forum for CQI members (and quality professionals in the nuclear sector who are considering membership) to maintain awareness, share experience and knowledge with their peers and to aid their professional development.

We are organised into three regions, Scotland, North of England and South of England (which includes non-UK based members) and we hold events throughout the year.

Our vision

To be recognised as improving quality within the nuclear industry through the development of the capability of quality professionals in the nuclear sector.

Our purpose

1. To provide a network to support best practice sharing and benchmarking
2. To support professional development of members
3. To establish and maintain the Body of Quality Knowledge for the nuclear industry
4. To represent the interests of members in the nuclear sector through the CQI
